

"Intro to Cook" Training Program

accepting applications now

Dan's Legacy is accepting applications for its supported Intro To Cook job-skills training program.

The four-month program is designed for youth aged 19 to 29 who meet this criteria:

- youth aging out of care
- Indigenous youth
- young women survivors of violence and
- new Canadians

The training program will operate out of

Union Gospel Mission's commercial kitchen 641 Columbia St. in New Westminster

with the clinical supervision of Dan's Legacy's specially trained therapists. Counselling support will be available to all students before, during and after the training.

1 week Orientation

(meet the Chef Instructors, counsellors, life-skills coach & program managers) 12 week Introduction to Cook training program 3 week work experience in a professional environment

Upon completing the program, assistance will be provided to help students find work in the hospitality industry, or continue on to further training in culinary programs such as those offered by Vancouver Community College or the Nicola Valley Institute of Technology's Indigenous Professional Cook Program.
